

Why Join AAI?

AAI is dedicated to supporting you

AWARDS AND GRANTS

AAI members are eligible to apply for prestigious AAI career awards, travel grants and awards, and fellowships that honor and support both mentors and trainees. AAI confers awards and fellowships to almost 1,000 members annually for an investment of nearly $2 million.

RESEARCH DISSEMINATION

AAI supports the dissemination of research discoveries in immunology through the largest all-immunology annual meeting worldwide, in its courses, and through its journals, The Journal of Immunology—the preeminent, peer-reviewed journal in the field—and ImmunoHorizons, an online-only, open-access journal.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

AAI offers members unique career development opportunities not found elsewhere, including serving on AAI committees; becoming a reviewer or editor for AAI publications; advancing teaching skills through the Immunology Teaching Interest Group; participating in annual meeting career development events; and receiving awards, grants, or fellowships.

EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

AAI offers the AAI Introductory and Advanced Immunology Courses, which are unsurpassed in comprehensive coverage and caliber of faculty comprised of world-renowned experts in the field. AAI annual meetings are a celebration of the most current, exciting science and offer myriad educational opportunities and networking.

ADVOCACY

AAI provides a strong voice for immunologists and other biomedical scientists, bringing their research advances, policy ideas, and funding recommendations to the attention of legislators, federal agencies, and the public. Our knowledge, experience, and reputation have proven to be even more needed and valuable during the SARS-CoV-2 pandemic.

JOIN US!

Become part of the most dynamic and prestigious community for immunologists worldwide. Members are principal investigators, staff scientists, postdoctoral fellows, students, lab managers, and other professionals. They join AAI for career opportunities, awards eligibility, participation in annual meetings, access to scientific publications, and many more benefits.
